Elisa P has been delighting the London music scene with her beautiful acoustic tales and unique, raw vocal, since moving here from France in 2008. She became involved in a number of projects, and in 2012 she was noticed by Flat50, an arts organisation with a finger on the pulse of the vibrant East London music scene. Elisa began to focus on her solo writing and performing, and has played numerous venues, mini-festivals and has even entertained athletes at the Olympic Village. A multi-instrumentalist, she plays guitar, viola and piano. A songwriter, she focuses on transition, love and loss in her debut EP.
